MINISTRY & LIFE PERSPECTIVES

From Safari.....

Recently, I decided to blow off my driveway. I connected the blower attachment to my vacuum/blower/mulcher machine, plugged it in and nothing. My machine is persnickety, checked connections, tried again and still nothing. Went to another outlet box, again nothing. Tried plugging in a fan, no power. I began the search of electrical panels. As I searched, I found some lights were out. After checking a fourth electrical box with no answers, I texted Tom (business manager) and Gary (head custodian). Tom texted back there is a larger issue taking place and he called Xcel Energy. Upon arriving at 10:00 pm, Xcel determined our phase 3 electrical line was out. Before they could precede, they needed all lines and utilities marked. It was a strange to experience as some areas had working outlets but no overhead lights, and vice a versa. The rectory air conditioner fan ran but no cooling happened. Early the next morning, a crew from Xcel began the searching for the break. The break was under the driveway. Not wanting to dig up the driveway and since the line was 40 years old, a new line was installed. More diagnostic work was done and finally the horizontal directional boring machine installed the new line with minimal disturbance to the yard. After twenty hours, full power returned to the campus.

This experience has me wondering, is the same true for our spiritual lives, that we might not be fully connected to God? Are we living a fulfilled life?

Roger Korban writes, "Once again, we have a Gospel passage in which Jesus demonstrates his concern that we live the most fulfilled life we can right here and now. In this situation, his teaching on wealth has nothing to do with our getting into heaven or being sent to hell. This Galilean carpenter is completely down to earth. He wants us to relate correctly not only to the earth we inhabit, but to the situations and people that earth offers us. A large part of those relationships concern wealth: the material things we acquire while we're on this earth.

In Jesus' opinion, anyone who focuses just on acquiring wealth during his or her lifetime is focused on something that is going to bring neither happiness nor fulfillment in that lifetime. The historical and risen Jesus of Nazareth is convinced the only way to achieve such happiness and fulfillment is to train ourselves to concentrate on those we encounter in our daily lives, always trying to care for the needs that surface in those encounters. Such a caring frame of mind normally isn't the first thing that pops up in our human nature. We're often worried about what we can gain from such relationships, not what we can give. We might believe Jesus' teachings are from God; we might learn everything we can about them and pass an exam on the subject, but how can we actually acquire a frame of mind that regards wealth as he does?

When it comes to our faith transformation, we have a choice to imitate Jesus or, to just worship him. Worshiping him will probably get us into heaven one day. But imitating him here and now will help us realize the dreams Jesus has for us. Only those who imitate Jesus are actually doing what he wanted his followers to do. The challenge is to carry through on that imitation even when we don't feel like doing it."

It is through the Eucharist, that we find the grace to imitate Jesus. To live a fulfilled life requires us to lean on Jesus, rather than any material or worldly base of security. "Life," as Jesus said, "does not consist of possessions" — unless, of course, that possession is Jesus.

Have a peace filled week!

Fr. Ron

P.S. On a personal note, I will be on vacation August 1st through August 15th.

STEWARDSHIP AND EVANGELIZATION

LIVING A LIFE OF DISCIPLESHIP

"Take care to guard against all greed, for though one may be rich, one's life does not consist of possessions" (Luke 12:15).

The Gospel message is contrary to modern culture, which continually tries to convince us that our joy comes from the material things we possess. That the more we acquire, the happier we will be. Jesus shows us that our true joy comes from our "invisible" gifts like love, mercy and forgiveness. True joy comes from "emptying" ourselves, giving of ourselves rather than always taking. We are called not to hoard but to share. True joy comes from living a grateful and generous lifestyle; become more "God-centered" and less "self-centered."

FESTIVAL NEWS

Sign-ups are available in the gathering space. Please take a look at all the areas we need help for the festival. There is an area for everyone to help. There are a couple BIG areas that we are REALLY in need of help.

1. The food stand needs someone to take over (ordering, purchasing and picking up the food, setting up and making food the day of the festival.) This could be a couple of people, a couple or a couple of couples. We would ideally like someone in this role in the next week or so to be able to shadow the Adamaskis this year and know what to do for next year.

2. The bean bag tournament is still looking for a chairperson. We have an app that will help register and schedule the tournament play. So the chairperson's role would be; make sure we have boards, register participants the day of the tournament and keep track of the tournament the day of (or finding people to do these roles.)

If either of those opportunities sound intriguing to you, please contact Vicki in the office, 320.251.8115. I can answer any questions and help where ever needed.
